Does music discovery support other music services?

Laura - 2021-10-19 - General Questions

Although the Music Discovery feature can identify songs streamed from other music services, at present, the resulting track can only be added to a Spotify playlist. We are looking at ways of extending support to other music streaming services, which may be available in a future update.