Why does my controller display switch off?

Laura - 2021-10-19 - Highway 400/600

The controller display switches off automatically to save battery and ensure users are not distracted. The duration that the controller display remains illuminated can be configured in the user settings.

Note: The display automatically turns on after any key press on the controller.