

FAQs > Help by Connection Type \(BT, Internet,...\) > Internet radios > How to use the new Airable Internet Radio Software / Platform

How to use the new Airable Internet Radio Software / Platform

INSIDE / AQIPA - 2024-11-04 - Internet radios

You would like to use the new Airable Internetradio platform?

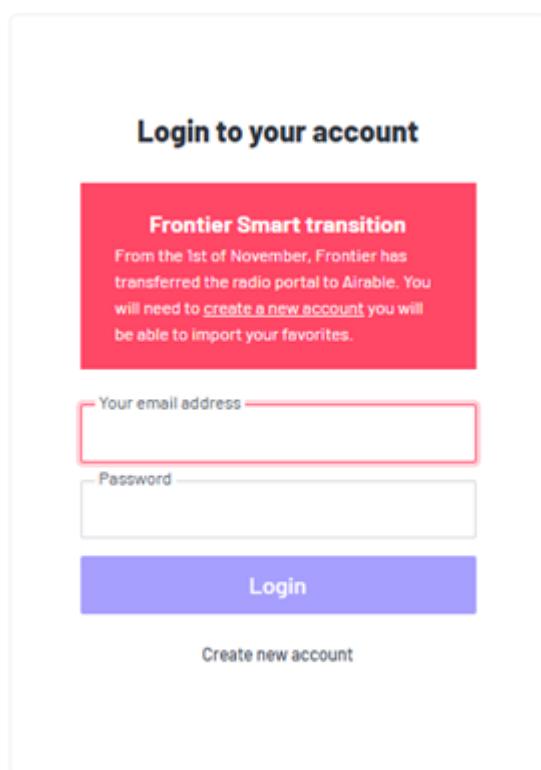

Like all other major radio brands, Pure has also switched its internetradio service provider from a company called Frontier Nuvola Smart Radio to a German company called airable GmbH.

For you as a user nothing much will change unless you have used the favourites function with the old Nuvola Smart Radio. To transfer your old list to the new airable system you have to follow a few simple steps that we outlined below.

1. create a new account with airable

The image shows a login form for the airable platform. The form is titled "Login to your account" in bold black text. It features a red callout box with the text "Frontier Smart transition" and a message about the transition from Frontier to Airable, stating that users need to create a new account to import their favorites. Below the callout are two input fields: "Your email address" and "Password", both with placeholder text. A large blue "Login" button is at the bottom. Below the button, a link "Create new account" is visible.

1. Export your favourites from the Nuvola platform

Export your favorites

Please choose which favorites you want to export.

Shared Favorites

work

00-22-61-31-AC-EC

 Export

1. Import your favourites to the your new airable account

1. This feature will remain available until the end on November 2024